Criminal.

Omaha, 19.—Sheriff Verner, of Eureka, Kansas, passed through Omaha this afternoon, homeward bound, with a prisoner named C. V. Burt, whom he arrested at Fremont for forgery, horse stealing and obtaining money under false pretenees. One of his transactions was forging a deed to property belonging to Mr. Miller, of Eureka, which enabled him to sell the property and results 21,000. He also stoke a team enabled him to sell the property and realize $1,000. He also stole a team and wagon, and skipped to Nebraska. Burt is a hard character, having served two terms in the penitentiary. He also has been engaged in extensive cattle stealing, and selling his stolen cattle to butchers.

Chicago, 29.—A colored waiter.

Chicago, 29.—A colored waiter, Bill Allen, alias Joe Dahlman, re-sisting arrest, shot and killed Po-liceman Wright, to-night, and emp-tied a revolver at other policemen who tried to arrest him, and escaped. Corrine, Me., 29.—This afternoon, North Newport was startled by two pistol shots in rapid succession. Shortly afterwards a horse attached to a carriage ran into the yard of Mr. Dodge. In the carriage was Miss Nellie Prillay, of North Newport, laying dying, shot in the left temple. Charles Crowell jumped from the carriage and dropped before reaching the horse. He had a bullet hole in his right temple. Both died inside of thirty minutes, were insensible and did not recover consciousness. Crowell called at the schoolhouse in St. Albans, where Miss Prillay is Corrine, Me., 29 .- This afternoon, St. Albans, where Miss Prillay is teaching, to take her to her home in North Newport to spend Thanks-

Longfellow.

London, 29. — Lord Granville in introducing the Dean of West-minster to a deputation from the Longfellow Memorial Committee, said they wanted the Dean's consent to allow a bust of Longfellow to be placed in Westminster Abbey, as a testimonial to a grateful and tender poet. The Dean unhesitatingly con-sented, and after paying a graceful tribute to Longfellow, referred touchingly to Washington Irving, and to the relations between the two countries whose ties were as strong as links of iron.

Dental.

New York, 29 .- It has been stated in several papers recently that the new theatre of which Edward S. Stokes of the Hoffman House, and Jno. W. Mackay, California and Jno. W. Mackay, California millionaire were projectors was to be erected on the site of David Dow's old house in West Twenty-third street. The fact is that the only part of the story which is true, is the fact that David Dow used to live in West Twenty-third street, and his former home is now heing demolished to give place to a being demolished to give place to a new building. A museum is to be erected on the grounds.

ELEGRAPHIC NEWS Sojourner Truth's Real Age.

Sojourner Truth has not sojourned so long in this vale of tears as current report would make out. Having heard her spoken of as about sixty, twenty-five or thirty years ago, the recent statement that she is 106 or 108 years old seemed improbable. The Rev. Samuel J. Rogers, in the Christian at Work, of Oct. 26, has unraveled "the yarn," by quoting from the narrative of per life—prepared by a friend at her direction, when she was in the prime of life, and her mind was clear, and published in Boston in 1857—the following statement: "The subject of this biography * * * was born as near as she can calculate, between the years of 1797 and 1800." All the incidents and details of the narrative which Mr. Rogers had before him confirm the state-of the narrative which Mr. Rogers had before him confirm the statement. Two or three years before 1810 she was first sold at auction for $180, being then only nine years old. At her last master's she lived eighteen years, beginning in 1810, and had been there several years before she was married, and in 1828, when the slaves were emancipated in New York, her children were small. She is probably not more than eighty-five years old, or, at the utmost, eighty-seven. Mr. Rogers says very beautifully: "During the years of the war Sojourner was a welcome and a frequent visitor to our home, and it is because of the high esteem in which we held her that I would make less of her age and more of the real nobility of her character."—Christian Advocate.
